DIMENSIONS

Spirit-What Does It Take?

From booing to "We've got spirit . . . How 'bout you?" are all dimensions of spirit.

When a school is said to be, without spirit, as has been said about Saguaro many times in the past, it makes one wonder what is missing to provide that spirit.

What happened this year in the dimensions of spirit? Foil letters which spelled 'GO SAGUARO' were visible at football games; pep assemblies drew good attendance, competition between classes, Homecoming floats and Homecoming week

- 1 Sophs find taking the float to school is difficult when the truck can only go 15 mph.
- 2 Senior Pom and Cheer members ride atop the truck pulling the float.
- 3 'Beatlemania' is the idea behind the 2nd place sophomore float. Sophomore attendants ride on top.
- 4 Alice Cooper, alias Jim Leahy, points to the crowd during ESP's lunchtime dance performance.
- 5 Freshmen 'Tough As Alley Cats' takes 4th place in competition.
- 6 Finishing touches are given to the 3rd place Senior float. The evidence on the ground reveals the rush-to-completion from the night before.
- 7 A whip cream can is all that is needed for this type of spirit.
- 8 Taking off the cream can be delicious as this unlucky participant discovers.
- 9 The winning float comes from the Juniors. A display of balloons highlights the float.

In Spirit (con't.)

were among the numerous activities to achieve more spirit.

Even teachers got into the spirit act with a special assembly skit.

- 1 K. O. O. D. acted on stage for a story as told by Eric Lee, teacher.
- 2 The women started a special project for the school.
- 3 At the start of the third quarter, the school team was led by Paul and Greg, who brought in a special assembly. A spirit song was sung to win the game.
- 4 The Porter Sisters, played by Matt, Tim, and John, were the first to be crowned. They were crowned by the school. Drinking a lot of Mac Mix.
- 5 TSP's K. O. D. acted on stage for a story as told by Eric Lee, teacher.
- 6 The women were present at most football games.

Beyond The Classroom

Although classes played a major role in a student's academic life, there was more. That was beyond the classroom.

Communicating and understanding one another was an important dimension usually found outside the classroom.

The hallways, library, mall area, cafeteria and even places across the street from Saguaro provided students with the opportunity of relating to each other. Others used their spare time for studying.

Night-time and after-school activities were also a part of this dimension. □

- 1 Rob Moore portrays the typical Arizona guy, wearing a leather jacket, listening to rock music on his skateboard and carrying a guitar.
- 2 Rob Moore works with Christy Brown during the Saguaro East organization meeting.
- 3 During the parade, Bobbie Bell, Gloria Blanco, Marty Jakubowski and the 'Cat ride a top the float made by Saguaro.
- 4 Sophie Shoen receives a kiss from Jim Leahy shortly after their coronation during Homecoming.
- 5 While other students move around him, Robert MacLean remains still.
- 6 The library is a favorite place for conversing with friends.

STUDENT LIFE

As the SUN follows its daily routine, STUDENT LIFE at Saguaro also follows a similar pattern.

The sun travels through dimensions. Early in the morning, the sun has not yet reached its full intensity; likewise, students at Saguaro have not reached their peak when they first arrive.

As the day travels on, the sun and students follow their courses. Various dimensions may occur within a day's time.

While the sun is emphasized here, it relates to the dimensions of Student Life which are expressed further in this section. ☐

Thru Camps

Row 3 Beth Lubin, Debbie McCarver, Anson Marshall, Lynn Harrington, Mary Sheedy, Sara Atz, Lisa White

Row 2 Tracee Webb, Gigi Hazard, Leigh Frederickson, Liz Hing, Teri Sullivan

Front Jennifer Johnston, Theresa Connelly, Rita Fraccola, Cindy Johnson

Front Poles Civitan, Tracy Petefish, Matt Lambert, Bruce Cherny, Amelia Craig

Leadership, responsibility and technique were among the abilities learned through summer camps.

From July 16—20 Pom and Cheer went to camp at NAU. There they learned new ideas to raise spirit, to improve their techniques and to compete with other squads. Cheer was honored with a spirit stick and was runner-up for the highest award of excellence. Pom placed second in a talent show and also in an expedition routine.

AIPA was held at NAU from June 12-21. 40 hours of complete yearbook instruction was acquired. Night-time activities were available such as dances, movies, ice cream socials and sporting events. Lori Lorenz participated on the 32 page mini yearbook and Cece Shoen was given a red rose and nominated "Royal Mountee" from a guy's dorm group.

Civitan was held at Yavapai College in Prescott from June 26-July 1. Each day they had a different theme and guest speakers. Highlight speakers were Kent Dana from KOOL News, Igor from Crazy Eds and Burton Barr, who talked about the role of the state. The students learned how to start a national charter club, and were always treated as adults.

Relating to and understanding others were the key objectives in the Anytown camps attended by students. The camps were held in the pine areas of Prescott and Wilcox. New friends were made in this unique communication camp.

Girls State was held at the U of A June 13-20. Students separated into different make-believe cities and learned about government election procedures and patriotism. Voted by her city as the City Council Woman was Gloria Blanco, the Nationalist Party Leader. Brenda Johnson was voted for one of the ten Senators and City Council Woman by the city. Betsy Gates served as State Representative. Boys State was held at NAU June 4-10. The purpose was to learn about government and citizenship by actually running their own government. During the week, students ran for city and county offices. Scott Corby was elected Mayor and County Treasurer. Jim Leahy was a County Party Leader and Senate Minority Leader. Steve White was City Attorney and Greg Bielli was City Clerk and Election Board Clerk.

ASS EMBLIES

Skits Boost Spirit Of Crowd

It was different than all other assemblies, due to the day and the importance of it. Speeches were made by each Student Body Officer. Pom/Cheer danced, various clubs made speeches on what they would be doing that week and then came the unexpected: a teachers skit. In the skit, the female teachers discovered what an average day of football training was like. After being victorious, they quit the team due to bad behavior.

- 1 For being a bully, Mrs. Hewitt smacked the "coach" (Mr. Miller) with her purse.
- 2 Gloria Blanco and Bobbie Bell scramble for an Elvis (Joe Jacoby) autograph while his bodyguards look on.
- 3 Surprised by the quick movement of the Pom and Cheer members which resulted with a pie on him is Keith Randall.
- 4 The women teachers play "Ring Around Walter" and "Walter Hunter's Falling Down."
- 5 Pom and Cheer dances to "Nickelodean" while dressed in black and white outfits.
- 6 Miss Nelson spills water as she tries to soak Mr. Miller.

1978 FASHIONS BOAST BRIGHT COLORS

The casual look was worn a lot around Saguaro. Among the fashions of the year were multi-colored blouson-type shirts which tied at the waist. Also in style were guachoes worn with boots and jeans with boots worn over them. Deckers were the most popular for casual shoes. Guys usually wore jeans and some type of comfortable shirt. ☐

- 1 Kathy Miller models a colorful striped blouson shirt
- 2 Lisa Hall and Andrea Winus display the casual look in clothes
- 3 Dressed in a layer-look outfit is Beth Holben
- 4 Guys usually wore blue jeans and a casual shirt
- 5 Amy Croes wears a color coordinated silk shirt and pants
- 6 Mid-length skirts which buttoned up the front were popular

Assemblies Ignite Crowd Spirit

Student participation in assemblies improved from last year. The different classes and clubs joined in to try to bring up the spirit of the rest of the student body.

Traditional skits were put on by Pom and Cheer. The Cheer squad ended the assemblies with class competition. Saber Society came through with a skit for most every assembly.

The assemblies were a good break and aroused school spirit in many various ways.

- 1 Kelly Smith, Scott Garry, Marcus Connolly and the rest of the cheer line operate on the mascot to get him ready for the game.
- 2 The Post-line dances this pre-recorded number amplified over the speakers in the stadium.
- 3 Helen Cain and Sharon Ross try to induce the Scottsdale Beavers during a Saber Society skit.
- 4 Mary Kirley, Gail Lorenz and other Saber Society members portraying the Avada Thug try to attack the mascot.
- 5 But the "cat" overpowers them!
- 6 Billy Marston, Mary Galloway, Pat Morrison and Barbara Ann Jim Lasky try hard to pull the Thug and Galloway away from the mascot.

Homecoming Activities Spark Enthusiasm

MONDAY Elvis Day, sponsored by Pom and Cheer, saluted the late Elvis Presley with a look-alike dress up day.

TUESDAY Mississippi Swamp was the theme for Tuesday sponsored by IBTC. Students dressed up in "hillbilly" fashion.

WEDNESDAY Pom and Cheer sponsored Disco Day in which students were to dress in crazy socks and rolled-up jeans. It was also Classes Day where each class dressed according to a code selected by their class officers. Seniors wore sunglasses and a white T-shirt. Juniors displayed rugby shirts. Sophomores wore hats and Freshmen dressed in black and gold T-shirts.

THURSDAY The Freshman Class sponsored Levi Day on which everyone was to wear jeans. In the evening, the Senior bonfire was held.

FRIDAY The final day of Homecoming began with a Musical Star dress up day, sponsored by Student Council. Students dressed as anything affiliated with music.

- 1 'Go Cats' lights the field which was part of the firework display during the Homecoming game
- 2 One of the many outfits which expresses the Mississippi Swamp Day theme is overalls, pipe and a straw hat
- 3 According to rumors, props from the play 'Harvey' burn in the foreground of the bonfire
- 4 & 5 In a momentary sequence of pictures, "Shall I or not" seems to be the question being asked. He finally DOES
- 6 Greg Fox and Anita Trachtenberg dance together during ESP's lunchtime performances
- 7 Another Hillbilly displays freckles and a bandana print shirt while taking time out from working

First attendants for Homecoming were John Norbut and Gloria Blanco. John was a member of the Varsity Football Team, Key Club, IBTC, Gents and Track. Gloria was involved in Student Council, Matmaide, Civitas, SOB, NHS and Zeta.

Reigning as second attendants were Mike Fraccola and Bobbie Bell. Mike was Student Body President, he was also in Saber Society, Key Club and Anytown. Bobbie was in Matmaide, SOB, NHS, Zeta and Senior Class Secretary.

Junior Class attendants were Greg Gilbreath and Lisa Friedman. Greg was on the Varsity Football Team.

Lisa was Junior Class President, she was also in NHS and Cindermaids.

Steve Bried and Mary Galloway were the Sophomore Class attendants. Steve was a member of the J.V. Football Team and Sophomore Class Vice President. Mary was Sophomore Class President and a member of Diamond Dolls.

Freshman attendants were Rene Romero and Lisa Smith. Rene was on the Freshman Football Team, Lisa was Freshman Class Vice President.

Sophie Shoen, Queen

Jim Leahy, King

Jim Leahy and Sophie Shoen reigned as Homecoming King and Queen. They were chosen by the entire student body on the basis of the individual's contributions to Saguaro. Jim was the Sabercat mascot and was also involved in Saber Society, ESP, Civitan, Student Council and NHS. Sophie was captain of the cheerline and was active in Zeta, Key Club, SOB and NHS.

INVISIBLE RABBIT IN TRIPODES CAST

When Elwood P. Dowd claimed he knew and talked to a 6½ foot rabbit, named Harvey, his sister, Veta Louise Simmons, and niece, Myrtle Mae Simmons conspired to have Elwood committed to a mental institution.

It started off with a party and Elwood trying to present Harvey to the guests. Soon after, Myrtle Mae took Elwood to Chumley's Rest. However, she was mistaken for the 'crazy person' by Dr. Lyman Sanderson. The mistake was finally discovered. They tried to locate Elwood, who had managed to loose Harvey. Dr.

William R. Chumley returned very nervous. (It appeared Dr. Chumley had actually met Harvey at a bar.)

At the end, a door was shut with no visible means of closing it-except Harvey, the invisible 6½ foot white rabbit. □

- 1 The cast poses together. Harvey was shown November 1, 2, 3, & 5
- 2 Elwood (Bruce Cherny) smiles as a kiss is delivered to him by Ruth Kelly R N (Dawn Nicholes)
- 3 Elwood backs into Lyman Sanderson (Rob Moore) while Duane Wilson (Andy McClure) torments him
- 4 Harvey is presented to Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet (Kim McQueen) by Elwood
- 5 Harvey's portrait, shown by Elwood, rattles Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet
- 6 William Chumley (David Schweikert) talks about the new patient with orderly Wilson
- 7 As the mistake is known, the staff of Chumley's Rest acts surprised

STAGE CREW POSITIONS PROPS

Behind the scenes the stage crew reigned over such as props, sets and lighting.

Crews were usually larger (up to 60 members with "Harvey",) than the actual number of performers who often worked on the sets

Other crews included the set, sound technicians, publicity, makeup and costume, light, property coordinators, house and stage. ☐

Scratch 'n Sniff Stimulates Sentinel Sales

October and November marked the sales drive for the 1978 Sentinel

The Jostens/American Yearbook Company, who publishes the yearbook, offered various campaign programs. Scratch 'n Sniff was chosen.

Students had the opportunity to scratch then smell the posters which appeared on campus walls and windows. There were four different flavors.

After the student bought a yearbook, they were given an "I'm Scent-imental About My Yearbook" sticker. These stickers also came in the same four flavors as on the posters. ☐

- 1 Jim Foulk scratches the "You'll Pine For One" sign and notices the pine scent.
- 2 Determination shows in the face of Ann McGrath as she rubs the "We've Got Grape Expectations" poster.
- 3 Karen Crookston smells the flavor of the "Boysenberry" poster.
- 4 The orange sensation came through for T.K. Dixon. The sign, hung on the door, drew lots of attention.
- 5 Lynn Asadorian discovers the delicious scent from the "Very Few Of The Boys-en-berry Few Of The Girls Will Want To Be Without One" sign.

Music Soothes Tense Moods

Music seemed to be the key to relaxation for Saguaro students. Evidence of this was found in the Homecoming theme, 'Music- Past and Present'

Dances drew large attendance since there was one after each home football game. Groups from colleges and universities gave special lunchtime performances. AV also played music on various days

Other music-related events included the appearance of Buddy Rich and his band at Saguaro in February.

- 1 Couples dance at one of the dances after a football game
- 2 Greg Smith of AV provides music at lunch-time
- 3 Many couples attend the dances
- 4 Slow dances are enjoyed by both girls and guys
- 5 Buddy Rich and his band play before an audience in the auditorium
- 6 The band plays at places like the Camelback Inn
- 7 The band marches in the parade which was held in February

Prior to the Sweetheart Prom which was held at the Scottsdale Conference Center on February 25, four couples were chosen by the club who sponsored the prom, Saber Society

Gold tassled programs and complimentary brandy snifters were given to each couple at the prom. The band was Mirage. □

Gloria Blanco

Q&A

Keith Randel & Julie Wieggers

Bobbie Bell & Jim Brady

Qualifications for becoming King or Queen of Courts were very strict. For a guy, he had to be either a wrestler or basketball player. The girl had to be a pommie, cheerleader or matmaid.

The nominees were chosen by Pom/Cheer, Matmaids, the basketball team members and wrestling team members. Then the entire school voted

King Marty Jakubowski was top scorer on the basketball team; Gloria Blanco was co-president of Matmaids. Attendants Keith Randel and Kelly Green were wrestlers; and Jim Brady was on the basketball team. For the girls, Julie Wieggers was a pommie, Ellen Ilseman was a cheerleader and Bobbie Bell was co-president of Matmaids. □

- Members of this scene are Donna Spini, George Kolosa, Cara Rosbrook, Pam Auld, Sheila Paloni, Sally Bull, Kevin Rosbrook, Dawn Nichols, Jennifer Coleman, Barbara Bowman, Lisa Kalfus and Julie McDonald
- 1 Donna Spini, Raja, plays a dramatic leading part of a young Jewish girl

- 3 Donna Spini and John Kevin Felsch are the two co-stars
- 4 John Kevin Felsch plays the part of Hanza a desperate young Jewish boy
- 5 The members of this scene are Susan Kalfus, Mitch Turner, Donna Spini, Diana Pauli and Charlie Smith
- 6 The members of this scene are Pam Auld, Dawn Nichols and Susan Smith

NAZIS IMPRISON JEWISH REFUGEES

Under the direction of Ms. Pam Foley, Saguaro's Performing Arts Center presented the play, "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" by Celeste Raspanti.

It was a story of a young Jewish girl, Raja, Played by Donna Spini, who is held captive with many others by the Nazis. It tells of her love and devotion for another Jewish boy, Hanza, played by John Kevin Felsch, who was in the concentration camps with her. These two young children shared their few hopes and dreams for life. All through the story Raja saw many of her beloved friends being killed by the Nazis, thinking she may be next.

Other performers were Pam Auld, who played Irena, a school teacher who had lost her nine year old daughter to the Nazis; Dawn Nicholos who played Renka; Diana Pauli who played a mother and Charles Smith who played a father. Also in the cast were Mitch Turner as Tave, Susan Kalfus as Aunt Vera, Ann Brueckman as Erika, Cara Rosbrook as Zuzanna, Julie McDonald as Gabriela, Barbara Bowman as Irca, Sally Bully as Marianna and Gregg Smith as the Rabbi. There were also many young school children who helped to make the scene complete. □

Jobs Provide Money

nother part of a student's life, besides that of school-affiliated activities was holding a job

Part-time jobs for students were generally found at fast-food places and restaurants. Most jobs were mainly available to juniors and seniors.

The money earned usually went for night-time activities, car expenses and other wants and necessities.

- 1 McDonalds is a popular place to work and eat for Saguaro students
- 2 Connie Garberding bags groceries at Basha's
- 3 Steve Pinch takes a break from his work
- 4 Fabric shops are a favorite place to work for girls
- 5 Taking customers' orders is the job of hostess Dawn Brooks at Kentucky Fried Chicken
- 6 At Bonanza Joe Garcia buses tables
- 7 Mike Friceola prepares sundaes for customers at McDonalds

Jobs
Con't.

- 1 Sigurd students can be found working at Granny's Boarding House.
- 2 Pickering's Box is a common working place.
- 3 Dishwashers are available to students.
- 4 Terry Robles works as a receptionist at Sakowitz.
- 5 McDonald employees use computerized registers.
- 6 Some students work at Scottsdale Memorial Hospital.
- 7 Diane Lunn takes an order from the drive-thru customer.
- 8 Nancy Birneth listens to a customer who is placing their order to her.

Seniors Top

Class Standings

Out of a class of over 600, 62 seniors made it into the top 10%. Several seniors received scholarships.

National Merit Semi-finalists were also named.

Mr. and Miss Sentinel

Steve White

 In the month of November, a list of about 50 names of outstanding seniors, the Sentinel and Sabercat staff selected four guys and four girls to be up for the honor of Mr. and Miss Sentinel. From these, the entire student body voted. As few people have been in many instances to be eligible for this title.

Four Couples Vie For Saguaro's Highest Honor

Bruce Cherry was on the Varsity Football and Basketball teams. He was a member of NHS, Saber Society and Civitan. Bruce also acted in many plays and attended Civitan Camp.

Mary Jakubowski was top scorer on the Varsity Basketball team. He was a member of Key Club and Zeta. He was also crowned King of Courts.

Tom Lasky served as the school mascot and on the Student Advisory Board. He was in NHS, Saber Society, Civitan, ESP and FMS. He was crowned Homecoming King.

Steve White was one the Basketball and Football teams. He was in NHS, and Key Club. Steve attended Boys State.

Carol Dine served as Sophomore Class President and Junior Class Secretary and was on the Student Advisory Board. She attended Civitan Camp and Girls State. She was in NHS, Zeta, SOB and Matmaids. She was crowned Queen of Courts and first Homecoming attendant.

Brenda Johnson served as Student Body Vice-president and Freshman Class Vice-president. She was in NHS, Saber Society and attended the Prom. She also attended Girls State.

Jan Linn served as Junior Class President and Year Book Editor. She was also involved in NHS, newspaper staff, band and was Freshman Class Secretary.

Sophie Shoss was a cheerleader for three years and was in NHS, SOB and Zeta. She founded Anytime and was crowned Homecoming Queen.

The winning couple placed at the Junior/Senior Prom on April 29.

Extravaganza '78

Soars With Success

What connection was there from a speech class to a complete show-the Extravaganza?

Mrs. Rose Nack, speech teacher and Extravaganza director explained, "Experience in communicating with a large audience is vital to a public speaker. The Extravaganza presents students with this opportunity. They learn how the intricate communication process works in actual practice and that attitude determines success."

The Extravaganza was a sell-out as in previous years. It was sponsored by the speech and communication classes who participated in it.

When Egyptian President Anwar Sadat visited Israel, of the whole conflict it made history. November 19, Sadat met Prime Minister Begin of Israel to discuss peace settlements. At a news conference Sadat said the chief accomplishment of the visit had been "to get rid of the psychological barrier which in my idea was more than 70% During the early March floods, (school was canceled March 2) Governor Wesley Bolin, in office only four months since Governor Raul Castro left to take another position, died. Previous Attorney General Bruce Babbitt took the office.

- 1 Prime Minister Begin of Israel and President Sadat of Egypt met at a conference.
- 2 Former governor Raul Castro took up another position.
- 3 A school in March was canceled.
- 4 Governor Wesley Bolin, in office only four months since Governor Raul Castro left to take another position, died.
- 5 Previous Attorney General Bruce Babbitt took the office.
- 6 The Salt River flood was worse than the one in 1949.

New Governor Bolin Dies In Wake Of Flood

Deaths Of Stars Plague America

Nationally, deaths of famous people occurred

Elvis Presley, age 42, died of a heart ailment in Memphis on August 16. (While alive, he sold more than 500 million records including his first hit 21 years ago, 'Heartbreak Hotel'.) Noted for his unique hip swiveling method, Elvis was only shown waist up on his first TV appearance on The Ed Sullivan Show. Two mourners were killed by a car while waiting to see Elvis' body on the day after his death.

Groucho Marx, age 86, died four days later of pneumonia in Los Angeles.

Bing Crosby, the "Crooner", age 73, had a heart attack while golfing on a course outside Madrid, Spain on October 14. His top selling number was 'White Christmas' and was currently appearing on orange juice TV commercials.

Guy Lombardo, 75, noted for his New Year celebration since 1929, died November 5 following heart surgery in Houston.

Charlie Chaplin, 88, universally known for his underdog appearance in silent movies, died Christmas Day. The 'Tramp' lived in Switzerland since he was denied entry into the U.S. in 1952. In February, his body was stolen from the grave site.

Hubert Humphrey, (Senator, D Minn.) at age 66, died of cancer at his home in Waverly, Minnesota. Carter, Mondale, Ford and Nixon (who returned to Washington for the first time since he resigned in '74) attended the funeral.

Other top news stories included New York's Blackout and arrest of 'Son of Sam' in August. David Berkowitz, a 24-year-old postal employee was suspected of murdering six young people under no apparent motive except Berkowitz's claim, "It was a command. I had a sign and I followed it." Meanwhile, California was suffering its worst drought ever. September marked the resignation of Bert Lance, who had been appointed Budget Director by the president. The controversy arose when it was discovered Lance made overdrafts and unsound banking policies at his bank in Georgia. Carter sent a budget to Congress—a trillion dollar one which he described as "restrained". A Panama Canal treaty was O.K.'d by a Senate panel and a 109 day coal strike occurred.

1 Freddie Prinze committed suicide in '77. He starred in "Chico and the Man".

2 The 'Crooner', Bing Crosby died in October.

3 Senator Humbert Humphrey died of cancer in January. His wife, Marie, died on his duties.

ORGANIZATIONS

● ORGANIZATIONS at Saguaro and the branches of a Saguaro CACTUS have similar dimensions.

When a cactus begins, it has few branches. The same held true when Saguaro started twelve years ago; the number of clubs was small. Another dimension is the size of the branches; some clubs remain small while others grow larger.

As both Saguaros grow, each develops more branches. Some of them die and fall off as do some organizations.

This section presents a dimensional view of the organizations at Saguaro ☐

Saber Society Sponsors Sweetheart Prom

Every year, Saber Society, a club of about 65 girls and guys, sponsored the Sweetheart Prom. Other service projects included a Thanksgiving party at Perry Institute and visits to Golden Heritage Nursing Home.

Saber Society grabbed a first place in float competition. They also sponsored a 'hidden musical note' day during Homecoming.

Officers were president Lori Lorenz, vice-president Beth Ruby, secretary Cathy Cole and treasurer Stacey Abel. Miss Berkel was the sponsor.

- 1 Saber Society's float, entitled Up, Up and Away captures first place. It is pulled by Marjie MacLean, Lori Lorenz and Marilee Dyer.
- 2 Kathie Miller and Beth Newman enjoy the party at Perry Institute.
- 3 Tom Dorr reads book markers to secretary Cathy Cole. Cathy takes notes.
- 4 Camille Zirkle and Virginia Gee tabulate results from a wrestling match.
- 5 Matmaids Michele Boverie, Beth Coleman, Sheri Winkowski, Lisa Coleman, Holly Smith and Lori Wright discuss wrestling and Matmaids to come.
- 6 Meetings for Matmaids were held outside. Discussing upcoming wrestling matches, the Matmaids.
- 7 One of the Matmaids, Lori Wright, is pictured here. She put a red paper all over the wrestling locker room. Pictured here is Lori Wright.

Matmaids Decorate

Wrestlers Lockers

Thanksgiving messages, program selling, pass outs to wrestlers, sponsoring King and Queen of Courts with Pom and Cheer, selling candy canes, profitable car washes and bake sales were all a part of what the Matmaids laboriously accomplished in order to promote the wrestling teams.

All 32 members of Matmaids had to go through the initiation procedure which was being kidnapped at night, dressed in the wrestler's warm up suits and then wearing them to school. They also had to sew their own uniforms and pay for the wrestler's pass outs.

Co-president Gloria Blanco commented about the Matmaids, "If wrestlers are smoother movers, then Matmaids are the smoothest!"

Bobbie Bell was the other co-president. Sponsor was Mr. Ron Vick.

HERO Members Sell Snow People

HE.R.O. (Home Economics and Related Occupations) had many money raising projects such as bake sales and selling cloth footballs. They also made snow people which were sold at Christmas.

The club sponsored a Christmas party at the David Crocket school and a canned food drive for the St. Vincent De Paul. The club also took inventory for Fashion Fabrics.

As well as sponsoring a Christmas party, H.E.R.O., as in previous years, gave a cash contribution to the Cancer Society and the Scottsdale Foundation for the Handicapped

- 1 Becky Kinney displays the footballs HERO members made and sold
- 2 Most members had jobs. Sharon Fenderson was the hostess at Lulu Bel es
- 3 HERO students made the snow people They were sold during Christmas
- 4 Cindy Holloway sells donuts to raise money for HERO
- 5 Nancy Gardner and Kirsten Alderman make the dolls that constituted the Los Arcos Christmas project
- 6 Members Suzann Lenzner and Joyn Knurek tie the dolls onto a straw wreath
- 7 Hula-hooping contests were run by Art Club members. Susan Munson participates in the fun

Club Anticipates Show

An art show in March was the Art Club's main project. Their other activities included a Christmas decoration project at the Los Arcos Mall. They also held a hula-hoop contest

The Art Club members tried to expand the student's interest in art as their main goal

Officers of the 15 member club included Stephanie Svenonios, president; Jolyn Knurek, vice president and Todd Swentek, treasurer.

Sponsor for the Art Club was Ms. Meili, the art instructor.

Zeta Members Ski With IBTC And Key Club

Zeta, sponsor of the Christmas Prom, also had had an Easter Party for retarded kids. Other activities included taking kids to the fair and help with a ski trip.

IBTC had parties and softball game with Zeta. To help raise funds, members held bake sales and car washes.

Zeta officers included Lisa Donnelly, president; Angie Thompson, vice president; Ellen Ilseman, Mo Powers and Dee Dee Lane were other officers.

Sponsor for the organization was Mr. Peart, the learning center teacher.

Soccer Soars With 8-0 Season In Tri-City League

The Saguaro Soccer Club with 25 members won the Tri-City soccer league with a season record of 8-0. The club played non-league games against the A.S.U. team. There they lost one game and tied another.

Mike Hoffman of the A.S.U. team asserted that "Saguaro has one of the top-notch soccer teams in the state." Leading scorers for the team were Mike Mason and Tom Dorr.

The objective of the Soccer Club was to have soccer become a varsity sport at Saguaro.

Officers for the club were Mike Mason, president; Mike McGinnis, vice-president and Dan Tweit, treasurer. ☐

- 1 Virginia Gee, Heather McBride and Rhonda Spruce takes notes at one of the meetings
- 2 Bobbie Bell, Dee Dee Lane, Angie Thompson, Ellen Ilseman, Lisa Donnelly and Mo Powers, officers of Zeta conduct a meeting
- 3 Sitting in the back of the room are Marty Jacobowski, Richard Woerth, Greg McClelland, Keith Russell, Wayne Ness, Bill Evans, Bret Bolin and Gary Troilo.
- 4 Mike Mason chases after the ball in an effort to kick it in the goal
- 5 Dan Tweit hits the ball with his head as Matt McKenzie looks on

Voices Entertain Audiences

Voices of Saguaro, the organization that provided the singing entertainment, held concerts, musicals and the overall musical entertainment at Saguaro

Voices consisted of 41 members, all of whom were dedicated to the field of musical entertainment. The members sold candy bars and collected money from their concerts to raise funds.

Before entering the club, each member had to be auditioned by Ms. Hakes, the sponsor and teacher. At times Voices was accompanied by musical instruments. □

1 Members of Voices spend long hours practicing during the school day and after school.

2 Practicing as a group is most evident when members stood in certain positions in order to equalize the volume.

3 Ms. Hakes helps Voice members practice during fourth hour.

4 Voices dress in gold and black during each performance.

5 Both girls and guys compose the Voices class.

6 Under the direction of Mrs. Hakes, Voices perform another number.

NHS Members Tutor At Saguaro And Grade Schools

Members of the National Honor Society were juniors and seniors who were able to maintain a 1.5 grade point average and had recommendations from a member of the faculty.

They tutored students at Saguaro and at elementary schools and sponsored two banquets, one for N.H.S. out of state representatives and one for the out of state college dinner.

Paul Zuber and Ms. Hunt lead the club as president and sponsor/adviser respectively.

- 1 Kathy Phalon tries some cake during initiation night while vice-president Mike Manning turns around
- 2 Mike Hall drinks punch in the middle of a crowd
- 3 While Mike Manning announces names, president Paul Zuber congratulates Mark Sheff on his acceptance into NHS
- 4 Greg Smith prepares the stereo to begin playing music during lunch
- 5 At football games, AV is in charge of video-taping the game

AV Video-tapes Games

Video-taping football games sponsoring dances, morning announcements and lunch-time activities were all part of the job AV members performed. All of this work for which only a community service credit was given

AV consisted of nine members (with a possible 12 total) with Dan Dresser and Scott Olson as co-presidents. Two (or less) members worked in the library as student assistants to Mrs. Smith, AV sponsor and AV department head, Mrs. Young

A lot of responsibilities were included in a member's job. First year members were allowed to laminate and mount articles and deliver equipment. In their second year, they supervised first year members and had more responsibilities. The senior offices made sure things were done and bought equipment

According to Larry Claus, "The main thing is you have to be honest." Janitors also played an important role as they would let AV members in the buildings after an AV activity business I have ever experienced. Licking deliciously on my plate were two steaming pieces of egg foo-yung, a pile of fried rice, and an entire serving of beefchowmein.

I then proceeded to turn on the T.V. to watch my favorite show, "Starkey and Hatch." I reclined back in the sofa, quietly anticipating the savory taste of the gourmet cuisine, and the animal magnetism of Starkey awaiting me. A truly wonderful evening was ahead of me, I thought.

I sat leaning back on the sofa waiting for the dragging of the commercials to complete one minute to Starkey. A bold little man with black rim glass appears on the screen, 45 seconds to Starkey. He opens his mouth and starts to speak, 35 seconds till Starkey. He is speaking, "Let me say a word to you about..." 25 seconds till Starkey and my gourmet meal, "Starkey."

By VALERIE BROWN
Here it is, gang! That true to life story you've all been waiting to sink your teeth into: "The Saga of Nancy Nowstudent."

Nancy Nowstudent, a typical apple pie, warm milk and cookie-eating student, meets her fate one day in the main office of Sagamore High School. What a way to get The easiest way of retelling this heart wrenching tale is to take you through Nancy's first day at Sagamore.

Nancy wakes up at 6:30, eats a hearty breakfast, and sets off for school, not suspecting the fate she will meet that first day. Realizing she hasn't yet received her schedule, she races into the office at 7:30 to pick it up.

Fighting her way through 300 other new students, all pushing and screaming, Nancy finds a robot-like administrator repeating, "I'm sorry, but all classes have been filled and closed until further notice. Go home, and don't call us, we'll call you."

Nancy, in lack of a better question, pipes shrilly, "But, but, does this mean I can't take an underwater basket weaving?"

His answer comes, "I'm sorry, but the only classes open until next year are water polo and library."

At the end of her fifth "class" at cafeteria, Nancy Nowstudent makes a trip to the library for a change of schedule. Finding a book she likes, "High School in the Home," Nancy heads for the librarian and asks if she can take the book out.

My entire being slowly rises from the couch, turn off the T.V. and proceed into the kitchen to drain the contents of my plate into the disposal. I then proceed into the bathroom.

In conclusion, this is the same pattern followed by the T.V. industry every night. I've heard of Pepto-Bismol before the commercial, so what's the point of airing something so crude on T.V.? I acknowledge freedom of speech, but you'd think the industry would have the decency to not air such lowly descriptive commercials during meal times.

What ever happened to manners and maintaining a stable amount of moral decency in this world?

Ellen Edinger

everybody expected it to die down so students could resume eating. But, on the first day of Homecoming, things in the cafeteria got a little out of hand.

Perhaps students carried their Homecoming spirit just a little bit too far. At least that's what Mr. Davis assumed in his announcement the following morning. But the thought of flying french fries, untapped coles, soaring sandwiches and spilling spaghetti goes a little beyond spirit. It's called rowdiness.

Some students thought the whole episode was funny. Obviously, the administrators failed to see the humor, as did those who were hit by flying food. It's great to have a rowdy school, but the time has come to draw the line between rowdiness and juvenility. KAREN O'DONNELL

Sprinting back to the cafeteria with the agility of an overland buffalo, Nancy Nowstudent takes her place in the 80-calle line, next to Pam Pam Pam. Upon reaching the snack bar, Nancy sees Pam carry off the last hamburger. In a strained voice, Nancy asks what food is left.

"I'm sorry, but lunch just ended. Try to be first on line tomorrow," is the reply.

With no classes to attend, and nowhere to go, Nancy heads toward the pay phones to call her mother for a ride home.

"I'm sorry, but I'm on my way to Ben's right now."

Nancy slams down the receiver and beats her head against the brick wall in seething frustration. In doing so, Nancy manages to crack her head open. Staggering into the office, bleeding profusely, Nancy asks to be rushed to the hospital.

"I'm sorry, but we can't have just any new student asking to be taken to the hospital, now can we? What is your reason?"

It is said that upon hearing this question, Nancy Nowstudent whispered, "I'm dying."

And surely enough, she did; another tragic case in the school files. The cause of death was listed as Nowstudentitis.

Packers Explore Wilderness

While hiking through Yosemite, Mt. Whitney, the Grand Canyon and other places, the Backpacking club set up camp and cooked their own meals in each location.

With the aid of cars, the backpackers reached part of their destination and hiked the remainder of the way. Other places they ventured to were Aravapa Canyon and Mt. Baldy. The club sold caramel apples to help raise money for these trips and for T-shirts.

The 45 member club's sponsors were Mr. Hoffman and Mrs. Lewis.

- 1 During the summer, the packers often went to cool places like Dawn Mist Falls
- 2 In the middle of Saint Mary Lake lies the Wild Goose Island, another place the packers visited in the summer
- 3 The club witnessed a sunset over a cool lake in the forest many times during the summer and school year
- 4 Little Chief Mountain and Saint Mary Lake as seen from SunPoint
- 5 On their trip to Yellowstone, in the summer, the club saw the Lower Falls on the Yellowstone River
- 6 Some of the weary hikers rest after a long hike on one of their trips. The backpackers set up their own tents.

Pom Entertains Crowds

The Saguaro Pom line spent many long hours to prepare the entertainment for football games, hall time at basketball games, skits and dances for the pep assemblies

Also, before each game, Pom, along with Cheer, gave 'pass-outs' to each member of the football and basketball teams

Besides sports events, they attended a workshop at N.A.U. There they competed with other pom lines and were awarded a spirit stick, a second place trophy for exhibition plus superior ribbons for individual competition

Advertising by putting up posters around school for each game was another project Pom and Cheer worked on together

Cheerleaders Scream For Spirit

Cheer, a division of Pom and Cheer, also provided Saguaro with the spirit and enthusiasm necessary for the football and basketball seasons.

During assemblies they often presented spirit chants and small skits for the student body.

Also, while at games and during half time, Cheer raised the enthusiasm and spirit of the basketball and football crowds.

Alison Marshall, Pom and Cheer's president and Mr. and Mrs. Paluch, the club's sponsors, helped the club to get organized in it's duty to raise the spirit of Saguaro.

- 1 Pom awaits half time where they will perform with the band
- 2 Drawing to the end of the performance, Pom gets ready to go off the field
- 3 Besides marching pom also cheers and chants
- 4 Ellen Iveman plays nurse during a cheer skit when the 'Cat lost his spirit

ESP Rallies For Spirit; Jr. Civitan Aids Community

E S.P. (Extravagant Skitso-Forensics Players) had a kazoo band and dressed up before games to help reach their goal, which was to raise spirit for the sports events.

During games they had a cheering section on the bleachers for anyone who had spirit.

The whole club, comprised of a fluctuating membership, went to many of the games and cheered Saguaro's team to victory many times.

E.S.P. was actively involved during Homecoming week and assemblies by doing spirit skits. Jim Leahy and Jenny Cantrell were the club's co-presidents.

Junior Civitan, a national organization and a new club at Saguaro, held a charter banquet to make their club official in November.

During the school year, the club sold Homecoming messages and Christmas corsages. They also had a car wash and a bake sale.

- 1 Pom pom spirit sticks help students show their spirit during a football game
- 2 Jim Leahy undressed to become an Indian to slaughter the "Buffaloes" on the day of the Tempe game
- 3 The largest of the club float's was Civitan's with the theme, "No More Mr. Nice Guy" It placed third

- 7 Sharon Kennedy and Mark Turner, officers of the Ski Club collect money for one of their trips
- 8 Tod Rolfe and Sharon Kennedy conduct one of the Ski Club's meetings

On-The-Job Skills Utilized By COE

COE (Cooperative Office Education) was a special interest club for seniors interested in business secretarial jobs

The club went on many field trips to various business offices and had many guest speakers to help them learn how to hold a secretarial job.

The requirements of entering C.O.E. were they had to be a senior with business education background and be holding a partime secretarial job.

Betty Turner, head of the business education department, was the club's sponsor. □

The Ski Club went to places like Pergatory in Colorado, Telluride and Sunrise among many others. There they skied and had fun in the snow

In order to raise money, for the club's various activities, members sold pretzels and had bake sales by the flagpole

The 75 member club's president was Sharon Kennaday.

IBTC's Mississippi

Swamp Days

Spark Enthusiasm

B.T.C. sponsored the Mississippi Swamp day during Homecoming week. Their other activities included bake sales, a softball game with ZETA and a skit for a pep assembly.

For their honorary members, I.B.T.C. gave a party.

The meaning of the abbreviation I.B.T.C. was not disclosed by president Colleen Hart as she said the meaning was disclosed only to club members.

I.B.T.C.'s vice president, was Leigh Ann Sullivan. The sponsor was Ms. Marshall. ☐

Sabercat Band Performs Throughout City

The Saguaro Band played at several concerts and represented Saguaro at the Parada del Sol parade. On many occasions the band played at the Camelback Inn as well as performing for the Saguaro student body during pep assemblies, football and basketball games

In order to prepare for each performance, the band had to practice for several hours, before and after school.

Mike Manning, the president-chairman of the band helped members practice and perform.

The organization's sponsor, Mr. Morsch, head of the performing arts department, also helped lead the band during practice and performances. ➡

Cathy Cole, a member of band, remarked that the band was a "really great organization."

The Saguaro's Band's main purpose was to promote school spirit. They achieved this goal by utilizing their musical and marching talents.

- 1 Mr. Morsch, the band sponsor, helps conduct players in the band
- 2 Band players take a pause after a long song
- 3 Besides learning how to play the drums the drummers had to learn to carry them
- 4 The whole band concentrates on their own music to help raise spirit for the game
- 5 Denise Siemers and Lance Cope nam it up to the camera

Ecology Club Combats Saguaro's Litter Situation

The Saguaro Ecology club was involved in improving the general appearance of the school, in every possible way. To combat the litter situation, the 25 member club built an aluminum can collection box and put it in the cafeteria.

Meetings were held after school on Wednesdays. They saw films and discussed future plans for field trips and how to reach their goal, etc.

Ecology Club officers were Bruce Duchac, president, Bob Cole, vice president, Tad Kossack, treasurer, Sue Crawford, secretary, and Michelle Brenner, public relations. Ms. Stapleton was the Ecology Club's sponsor.

The Math Club sponsored the state and national math contests. They also held a banquet honoring math students at the end of the year.

Requirements for entering the Math Club were having 1 presentation or six hours of free tutoring.

Math Club president and vice president were Matthew Gordon and Dale Halterman. Mr. Hoffman was the club's sponsor.

French Creates Crepes

Members of the French Club participated in activities such as soccer games with other clubs, food parties, crepe contests and bake sales. They also went to see various French movies.

The club attended the state French competitions at A.S.U. and organized a program at the elementary schools to interest students in taking French in high school.

President for the French Club was Tad Kossack. Ms. Carmel Vance was the club's sponsor.

Quijote Club's main ambition was to "deshacer agravios" through the teachings of Don Quijote de la Mancha. The fourth and fifth year Spanish classes comprised the club. Dialogues, poems and drawings dedicated to Quijote were among the teaching techniques used. □

Shutterbug Club Exposes Saguaro To Photography

Shutterbug members were most concerned with improving photography at Saguaro. They held a paper drive and several donut sales. The club also sold concession foods at the Parada del Sol rodeo.

To raise more funds, the club sold action and group pictures to other clubs as most members were also on the photography staff.

Most of the money earned went for more film and photography paper.

Officers for the Shutterbug were Paul Newman, president and Ron Whitney, vice president. ☐

Photographers Suffer "Take, Develop, Print" Demands

Six photographers comprised the photography staff. They took most of the pictures that went into the Sentinel and Sabercat newspaper.

The photographers, which had to stay after school to take pictures and develop negatives in the school darkroom, were Paul Hunt, Paul Newman, Rob Moore, Louis Greenfield, Tammy Ryan and Keven Esper

Ms. Forbes, advisor for the yearbook and newspaper staffs, also counseled the photographers and made sure pictures were taken on time

All the photographers had some experience in photography prior to entering the photography staff and some of them had their own darkrooms at home as well

Photographers were required to know how to operate darkroom facilities as well as knowing the basics of operating a camera. □

- 1 Louie Greenfield runs a print through the fixer solution to make it appear darker.
- 2 The enlarger was used by Tammy Ryan to make prints from negatives.
- 3 Kevin Esper sets the enlarger in the correct position so he can print a negative.
- 4 The darkroom housed all the photography equipment necessary to develop and print negatives.
- 5 Rob Moore displayed the large amount of negatives that had to be printed for the yearbook's use.
- 6 Paul Huang was often seen in the dark room either printing negatives or cleaning the dark room.
- 7 Paul Newman, also president of the photography club, took action pictures of clubs and sports. He also took pictures of club groups.

Girls Volleyball Competes In Semi-Final Action

When the Varsity Volleyball team ended their season in 6-5, it resulted in a three way tie with Arcadia and Tempe.

Saguaro defeated Tempe which left the 'Cats' tied for fourth with Arcadia. A coin flip made Saguaro play the #1 ranked Westwood. The third and deciding match ended in 19-17 in favor of Saguaro.

Chaparral then defeated Saguaro in semifinal action.

The team's (coached by Gayle Wilborn) top players were Mary Bruemmer (four years on varsity) who also received a first string post on the all-city team; Leigh Fry (three years on varsity) and Lorri Manguso (three years on varsity). □

The first encounter was with the powerful Scottsdale Beavers. Although the Saguaro offense was sluggish, the defense slowed down the Beavers. Saguaro's leading rusher was John Norbut with 59 yards on 16 carries. Despite, this, the final score was Scottsdale 17, Saguaro 0.

The second game with the Coronado Dons, the Saguaro defense again prevailed against Coronado's offense. Saguaro needed every bit of its offense to hold off the Dons, for its first win of the season Saguaro 13, Coronado 10.

Saguaro tried hard but lost to the state champions, the McClintock Chargers. Saguaro managed its single T.D. on a fumble recovery and a 17 yard return by Richard Werth. The score was Saguaro 6, McClintock 36. Although they lost, the Cats were the first team in conference to score against them.

For the first time the Sabercats got their offense together by totaling 228 yards. The defense held Arcadia to 97 yards in passing. Saguaro shut out Arcadia 26-0.

Again Saguaro's passing game exceeded their rushing. Kevin Smith, Saguaro's leading quarterback completed eight of 18 passes for 175 yards. The running backs contributed 164 yards and Scott Hunter led the defense by holding off the Criminals. The Sabercats found many ways to score as they stomped on Yuma 29-8.

Saguaro's defense did the majority of the work for the Sabercats 7-6 victory over Tempe. Tension built up in the fourth quarter when the Buffalos took advantage of a fumble recovery and scored. Tempe attempted a two point conversion which was stopped by Greg McClelland to make the Sabercats victorious over the Tempe Buffalos. ►

- 5 Saguaro's offense rushes off the field after a score

Casa Grande Cougars and the Mesa Jackrabbits which both slipped through Saguaro's fingers. Casa Grande winning 29-14; Mesa overtaking Saguaro 29-9. This effected the playoff position for the Cats.

Playing their highest scoring game, the Cats demolished the unvictorious Chaparral Firebirds 62-6. Saguaro held Chaparral to negative three total yards rushing, breaking the school record of 23 yards. Saguaro racked up 257 yards of their own. The offensive line blew away the Firebird's defense to assist Mike Evans in scoring three touchdowns, Richard Woerth and Tim Rangel two each, and Greg McClelland and Joe Garcia, one apiece.

The Sabercats, saving the best for last, played an excellent and victorious game against Westwood. Richard Woerth led offensively with 26 of 28 points. Although Saguaro defeated Westwood, the Warriors went on to the playoffs. Saguaro did not make the playoffs because of their losses

The Sabercats finished the season with 6 wins and 4 losses. Richard Woerth was leading rusher and scorer. Kenny Lemons lead the pass interceptions and Scott Hunter lead the defense breaking a school record by 13 tackles in a single game against Casa Grande. Greg McClelland broke a record with four blocked punts in three games Saguaro's defense kept Chaparral to negative three yards which set a new record.

Coach Keller, Vick and Littleton gave time and effort to produce a good team. Coach Keller was head coach. He practiced with the ends teaching fundamentals of catching the football and he also taught the linebackers how to tackle effectively. Mr. Vick was coach of the linemen, teaching them blocking assignments for all plays. Mr. Littleton was backfield coach who called the plays from the pressbox. All three coaches participated in preparing the football players mentally for each game. □

- 1 Enthusiastic Sabers charge off the field after making a good play.
- 2 Richard Woerth gets the ball for yardage.
- 3 Kevin Smith edges the opposing team to complete a pass.
- 4 Doug Larson receives a handoff from Kevin Smith.
- 5 Greg Gilbreth shows his emotions for Paul Douglass touchdowns.

Coach Walls really gave time to the Junior team. For one man to coach a team is not easy. He brought the Junior team to the best record at the school, 7-2. Defense was strong and only gave up 42 points all season. ☐

Sabers Turn The Odds

The Sabercats turned the odds on the writers who chose them to finish almost last in their league. Despite the Sabers not being ranked, by playing well and beating #7 Westwood, Mesa, and #9 Chaparral, Saguaro captured the city and divisional championship and finished 4th in their league. Saguaro went on to State, but lost to Tucson's Rincon High School by 3 points in over-time

Papers ranked Saguaro as decided underdogs before the divisional playoffs started. Though Saguaro's success came as a surprise to many people, it was no shock to the Sabers who believed in their own abilities

The starting line-up with their total points scored were high point scorers, Marty Jakubowski, 325 pts., Bret Bolin, 277 pts., Jim Brady, 263 pts., Steve White, 231 pts., and Dave Bullock, 215 pts. Each starting player scored over 200 points which balanced the team. This made the Cats play well together. The rest of the team players were Brent Wiblin, Scott O'Brien, Tom O'Donnell, Doug Holland, Dave VanOmen, Todd Pruitt, and Kevin Smith. Coach Jerry Eckman received the Central Coach of the Year title. ☐

Practice started Jan. 25th to prepare them for their first game. Noticable strengths were recognized by coach Cozart. He commented, "Our pitchers are the most outstanding yet." The six pitchers were Ted Doss, Ed Reading, Jim Pettibone, Dave Meek, Bob Fingers and Pat Martin.

The starting line-up was catcher Steve Hill, 1st baseman Pat Martin, 2nd baseman Ren Nosky, 3rd baseman Greg Melbo, shortstop George Adams, left field Steve Randall, center field Mike Martin, right field T.J. Moran.

"The Freshmen team has good talent and it has been tough to come down to the final squad," remarked Coach Italiano. "They have had good solid hittings but cannot get pitching depth." The all around player was Dave McCalmont, who was a good glove man and an excellent hitter.

Baseball Team Anticipates Season

Coach Littleton, coach of the varsity baseball team, commented, "We're going to have to scrap, but I'm confident in the team, I think they'll do pretty well." He pointed out how the team had a strength in attitude and aggressiveness, but its pitching needed to develop as they went on. The team consisted of 18 members. □

- 3 Varsity team members display hitting abilities.
- 4 Gary Troilo waits to catch the ball as the umpire prepares to call the pitch.
- 5 Members practice their batting skills.
- 6 Stepping into the swing is an important factor in batting.

ACADEMICS

PRODUCT

While a MOUNTAIN provides a firm foundation for the lad, ACADEMICS provides the foundation for Saguaro

The mountain is a solid dimension although rocks and plants occasionally fall off Saguaro's faculty is the solid dimention for academics; however, it may also change when new teachers replace retiring teachers or those who are leaving

A dimensional view of academics and the teachers responsible for them is given in this section ☐

COMPUTERIZED STAR TREK GAMES SPARK UP MATH EDUCATION

The computer programming class was brought back after its dismissal last year. The classes were held in the new math center and provided students with the knowledge of computer programming, answering mathematical equations, print out games and producing current data

Students worked on two computer terminals which were linked by telephone to a receiver in the main computer at the civic center

The new math center, located in the 200 building, was built for several different reasons. Department head Walter Hoffman stated, "The center provides an excellent place for the two computer terminals; it can be used as a place to take make-up work and it serves as a computational skills room."

- 1 A programmed 'love message' from the computer boasts the abilities of the programmer
- 2 A student programs the computer terminal in the relay station to attain information for the computer skills class
- 3 Dale Halterman points out the mistake on the computer to Andy Hann while Pat Burns looks on

Students Communicate Through Languages

Communicating in a foreign language has always been an advantage, both in our social and working world. This was the main basis for the classes this year. The classes also stressed the fact of preparing the student and giving them a better knowledge of the language.

Spanish I included both reading and oral assignments, which gave the student more practice with speaking. French and German both gave ample amounts of home study to better the students knowledge with the writing aspect of it all. The classes became more familiar yet with their languages through several speakers who came to give lectures. □

- 1 German students smile as the photographer snaps the picture
- 2 Students pay strict attention when the Queen of Spain (Ms Baker) speaks
- 3 Brian Hall takes a quick nap during a long lecture
- 4 Students take part in Mrs. Hatton's German class
- 5 German students take a break from oral dictation
- 6 A German student looks up from his written work

English Ranges From Shakespeare To Dictionaries

The English department, with its wide variety of courses available to the students, remained at the top of the list. Many students got involved in the developmental reading and creative writing classes, as well as the regular English program.

The classes covered everything from basic nouns and verbs, to Shakespeare's plays; with mythology and the American Literature periods in between.

Students were taught not only material they would use, but things that will aid them in the years to come, both in college and in later life. They learned how to write comps, essays and how to do a critique.

- 1 The listening tape proves helpful in English C
- 2 Students work on their own and at their own speed
- 3 Listen and Remember tapes aid the students in Reading Skills

Drama Students Manufacture Their Own Sets

English classes were as varied as in any other department. Classes ranged from easy to hard, depending on teacher and subject being taught.

The speech classes sponsored the Extravaganza '78, with the help of their teacher, Ms. Nack.

In the Bible Literature classes, students studied literature in the Bible as it is written. Teacher for this class was Ms. Phillips.

Three English credits were required.

Missing

The Fine Arts department provided many opportunities for advancement in such areas as drama, acting, music and media

Students learned through instruction and through experience. Members of the various bands gave concerts, while the cast of plays such as "Harvey" and "You Never Saw Another Butterfly" put on numerous shows.

- 1 Ms. Fortsch often sat in a chair in front of her English IB and IIB classes to teach them the basics of Mythology, grammar, etc.
- 2 Teaching Developmental Reading was one of Ms. Claytons professions. She also taught English II.
- 3 John Felsch has just put on his super-overpowering after-shave lotion and all the girls begin to swoon.
- 4 Ms. Hakes directs Voices as well as teaching other fine arts classes.
- 5 Drama students were required to build their own sets as well as play the parts of many characters.

History Teachers Utilize Skits

Projecting the ideas and importance of America's past, present and future to students was the job of history teachers.

Sometimes, different approaches to learning were used. These ranged from skits, in which the players acted out a famous scene from history, to speeches and to decorating bulletin boards.

Some classes had special speakers from around the valley who came in and talked to the class.

Counselors Aid Students

Schedule changes, teacher switches and graduation conflicts were among the many problems the counselors faced this year. All the counselors were kept busy trying to keep up with all of their students problems. Hundreds of students flocked their offices daily during the first of registration, requesting schedule changes, which were close to impossible. The classes were filled the very day of registration at the end of last year.

As the year moved on, things got a little better, but non-the-less, their jobs were never done. As soon as the schedules were arranged, students began requesting recommendations for the colleges. These took hours of hard, long work. □

- 1 Fred Mueller, at one of his busier parts of the day, talks on the telephone
- 2 Mary Waits galdly listens to the student's problem before giving advise
- 3 Carrie Van Dyke seeks help from Mrs Paluch after moving to Saguaro
- 4 Mr Randall advises Cindy Murphy on a schedule change

Administrators 'Play' Dual Roles

- 1 Assistant Principal Gene Bichekas finishes paperwork
- 2 Assistant Principal Tom Miller plays a double role. Along with his office duties, he takes time to play the role of coach Keller in a skit.
- 3 Principal Ray J. Davis tries to combat the problem by phone.
- 4 Miss Mullins helps in Mr. Bichekas' office.

- 5 Librarian Lydia Bury skims through a book.
- 6 Mr. Miller's secretary, Mary Doyle, files some cards.
- 7 Librarian Louise Young examines her paperwork.

All major decisions were made by one of three principals. From parents' calls to approving schedule changes were a few of the duties of the administrators.

The secretaries typed forms to facilitate the job of the principals.

Another leading position was held by the librarians. They tried to keep theft of books and equipment down to a minimum with the aid of the 'beeping' device.

Besides sitting behind desks all day, some administrators took part in skits. Mr. Miller was one of these. □

- 1 In the learning center, students work at their own pace
- 2 Annebelle Pederson takes time to smile for the camera
- 3 Ms. Peart looks over new material
- 4 Emptying the garbage in the doorway of a room is Don Incho
- 5 Craig James tends the grass with a mower
- 6 After school, Roy Harrison sweeps several classrooms

Services Aid

Students And School

The janitorial staff was kept busy despite the effort made by students to keep the campus clean. The janitors were constantly at work either picking up after a careless student, or off repairing something around the school. As one of the men said, "There is a lot of ground to be covered, and it takes a while to do it."

The learning center provided extra help and assistance to those students who needed it. Students learned to improve their study habits, both at home and also in the classroom. They were given the opportunity to move at their own pace, rather than struggle to keep up with other students.

Meanwhile, the nurse kept busy in her office tending ill students. She not only sent students home, but she made sure they stayed there until they were well.

Physical Education Builds Bodies

Drivers Education not only taught statistics and facts in the classroom, but also taught on-the-road skills such as behind-the-wheel, a program for new drivers.

This training was taught by one of three teachers, Hegarty, Vick or Johnson. It was done before and after school or on weekends. The drivers gained experience and confidence through behind-the-wheel

The P.E. department covered a number of sports activities. These included everything from track, tennis and soccer to archery, baseball and basketball

Students of Biology classes were taught the basics of cells, and organisms through films and pictures. As well as cells and organisms being learned, pupils learned all about the Human skeletal and circulatory systems. Chemistry was more into chemicals and their properties. They also studied theories and had to prove hypothesis'.

The Environmental Science classes planted several vegetables in the planter in the mall area. The Environmental Science classes were taught by Mr. Stadel. Aviation Science classes, taught by Mr. Solem, learned all about pre-flight facts. □

- 1 Mr. Stevens explains a chemistry assignment to Michael Lac
- 2 Mr. Royce was often found to be lecturing to his Introduction to Psychology students. He also taught Biology
- 3 Science students were often required by teachers to take notes in most science classes. Jenny Fry reads over hers

CLASSES

A tumbleweed passes through many dimensions of growth; likewise, classes at Saguaro also pass through similar dimensions.

When a freshman starts out, he is dominated by upper-classmen. As the tumbleweed reaches its full height, in comparison, the freshman grows into a senior. Finally the tumbleweed blows away as do the seniors after graduation.

As there are always more tumbleweeds, there is an everchanging flow of students to fill the dimensions of time represented in this section.

MATT GORDON:

He's Compiled 13,750 Gum Wrappers In Single Chain

They said there's not enough interest in it," commented Matt Gordon about the Guinness Book of World Records entry.

Matt had a 1,500 foot gum wrapper chain which someday he hopes would be a mile long. An unverified Guinness report claimed a chain 1,500 feet had been made. Over 300 hours of work had gone into Matt's chain since he started it as a freshman. (Before that it was six feet in sixth grade.)

"So it wouldn't waste gum wrappers" was Matt's reason for starting the project. He took whole packages and did them at the same time, usually while watching TV. The tin wrappers he hammered together and they weighed about a pound. He found Wrigles wrappers to be the strongest and Carefree and Beechnut wrappers, the weakest. (These wrappers made up most of the chain.) Eventually, he would like to wind it up into a rug and ease it in plastic.

His scouting program was through the R.S. Mormon Church. Agency was open to individuals although there were a few restrictions- if under 12 years old no overnight camping was permitted. Also the Church program ended at age 18. Included in his scouting activities were a couple of 50 mile walking hikes.

Practice Pays Off To State Bar Champ

Although Darlene didn't have time for the Saguaro gymnastics team, she did manage to take the State Bar Champ title on the uneven parallel bars.

The title, which was taken by her in March of '77 lasted a year and then was up again in March. Darlene was a Senior National Qualifier and has been in gymnastics for seven years. She practices on a strict schedule Monday thru Friday from 3:30-9:00 and Saturdays from 9:00-1:00.

She was a member of the United States Gymnastic Federation and on the Desert Devils team, coached by an ex-silver medalist on trampoline in 1974, Stormy Eaton. Also on the team was Sherri York.

The team traveled to Hawaii and Pennsylvania. Money was provided by funds and half by parents. Since Darlene was an amateur, she was allowed to teach for money.

To be an elite? (one who competes in U.S. Championships) was Darlene's goal. □

What was there to do in Mexico visiting an old exchange student? A lot, according to Rhonda Carlson.

Besides visiting Guadalajara, where the exchange student from last spring, Laura Zee, lived, she also went to Mexico City, Puerto Vallarta and Cuernavaca.

She attended a lot of parties and went to an institute to learn Spanish. (Rhonda was in Spanish IV class.) Also, she visited museums, beaches and discos. While there, she had to speak Spanish and some English.

One grown up with them, said Carolyn Perrell, whose parents have had great Danes for ten years. Not only were the Great Danes at home, but her parents owned a kennel called Compadre named after a combination of the parents' middle names plus dane.

Carolyn and her parents were in two Great Dane Clubs, the Great Dane Club of Arizona and the Scottsdale Dog Fanciers Association (SDFA).

There were shows all year round, although the SDFA had fall and spring shows. Danes are separated into male and female groups and judged on movement, size, appearance and color marking among other categories.

Carolyn's house boasted a wall of trophies and three champion dogs, one of those out of their own breeding. □

Robin Reid:

She Starred In Opera

During Summer At N.A.U.

During the summer of '77, Robin was the main character in "RSVP" an opera by Offenbach.

Two weeks before traveling to N.A.U. (where she starred in the opera) she memorized it. Then she practiced it for two weeks before "RSVP" was shown one night.

It was so well remarked, Robin. She also added that the set was professionally done and N.A.U. props were used such as the hoop skirt she wore.

She starred as Ernestine, the woman in love with a musician. Only one problem stood in the way - her father hated the musician. When the town saved Ernestine's father from ruin, he started to like the musician.

Robin sang soprano in the opera besides Robin - main character, then her two brothers played roles.

In November, she was in "Pirates of Penzance". She plans to go on with her singing career if possible like her cousin-in-law Frank Sinatra who she never met.

For three years, Dave has been involved in jujitsu-the gentle art. Jujitsu is like karate but involves kicking, throwing and the use of weapons-knives, spear and sword. It is what judo was derived from.

Dave said jujitsu was his favorite because he liked working. He took private lessons from 1971. Segund graduate, Eric Merrill, and practiced at SAR, a club of boxing, judo, wrestling, and Scottsdale Community College for a couple hours a day when it was possible.

Dave had a brown belt in jujitsu with two brown and two black belts left to acquire. He competed in judo but there were not tournaments for jujitsu in Arizona.

"I plan to teach in a while but there isn't much money in jujitsu teaching," Dave stated at his goal opening a shop like another.

Steve started chrome parts he found in junk yards needed for rebuilding. He's also rebuilding the interior. That's what he's working on now. Claims Steve.

Q What does he use to keep the Chevelle in good shape?

She Performed Song In Los Arcos

Mall For Miss Teenage Phoenix Pageant

It all started at the end of August when she picked up an enter form from Los Arcos Mall where she answered questions about school activities, etc.

Then, on September 20, Carolyn, along with 100 other girls, met to take a test on current events and general scholastic knowledge. Carolyn recalled, "I just remember going, 'Wow!'" The top 20 best scorers, of which Carolyn was one, were notified the next week.

She had to prepare a two minute skit. She decided on the song "Wouldn't It Be Lovely" from "My Fair Lady". On October 13 she performed in the middle of Los Arcos Mall.

They waited an hour to hear for scores. She was one of the top ten finalists. A two minute interview by the judge followed where she was asked a question, "If you had a history teacher whose lectures were one-sided and biased and against your belief, what would you do?" Her response, "You would voice your opinion in any discussion and if it really bothered you, you would talk to the teacher afterwards to let it go."

It made a lot of sense, she thought. "I was really shy and nervous," Carolyn said in retrospect.

After His Tires Blew Out & Skidded

Off The Runway-He Still Flies

Since graduation (1944) 10 months of instruction) Mark has had his pilot's license.

He took Mr. Solom's aviation science class which was in ground school. This got him interested in flying. He also took instruction from an operator at the airport and had to obtain a Restricted Radiotelephone Operator permit. The permit included written and practical flight test.

Expense is a major factor in flying. Plane rental is high (Mark didn't have access to one) and there isn't insurance.

Soon, he plans to go into high performance flying where the aircraft has 200 hp retractable wheels and is not injected. What does Mark like about flying? The freedom it gives one. It would have to be a lot of fun.

He was out one time when the brakes in the aircraft locked the tires blew out. Later on he was shown the big hole in the road and he skidded all the runway.

Mark plans to go into the military and already has received a scholarship from both the Navy and Airforce ROTC because of his flying.

He's A Surfer & Skateboarder

New tricks, new maneuvers and new equipment are constantly being invented, to the life of a skateboard enthusiast like Scott, who is constantly changing.

His favorite places to skate include an empty swimming pool which Scott describes as "the best place" to skate. There's one in Mesa and in 22 foot pipes, however, there is a $500 fine if one is caught in the pipes.

It's easy to get injured if you're not careful, warns Scott. He broke his wrist once. Safety gear includes knee pads and Scott recommended one should always wear shoes. Helmets are good so you don't crack your skull open, but he doesn't always wear one because they are confining.

Another side of his life is surfing. There are relatively few surfer/skaters in Sagueno, Scott claimed. Barry Finnerty was one of them.

Scott has four surf boards. He has a 6'6" Infinite Stinger and likes to surf up and down California's coast.

What does Scott think of surfing in comparison with skateboarding? "Surfing is twice as insane as skating."

From February To March, She Stayed In Guadalajara

Her first year in Spain, Susan went to Guadalajara.

She brought a friend, Marcela Aguilar, with her.

To start with, she filled out an application. From there she was sent to a private school. Half the buildings were Spanish-taught and the other half was English-taught. The Mexicans who attended the school were mostly rich and the Americans who attended were from families who had money. Susan said that the Spanish people were very friendly and that she had a good time in English.

The differences between the people of Mexico, Susan described as "Numb" and "unfriendly." She said that the people were "low-to-earth."

Jim Likely:

He's Into Falconry

W Its a lot of fun and a lot of work too," admitted Jim Likely who is into falconry.

Obtaining the license is not an easy task explained Jim. "There are federal tests to make sure you know what you're doing." First, a permit to capture a hawk (or falcon) must be held and then a possession permit may be acquired. There are two different classes in falconry; Class 1 and Class 2. Class 1 is reached when a bird is captured and Class two requires a person to be 18 and two years under a sponsor to keep a bird. Jim's sponsor was a Saguaro student who had four years experience. In Arizona there were no competitions to enter but in California Jim explained there was a Hawking Club.

How does one go about training a bird? "You lower the weight, by starving them," explained Jim. It takes anywhere from a week to a month to train hawks. Welders gloves protect his arms from the bird's claws although Jim does have a scar he received from a bird.

Knowing about the hawk is important. Some birds don't become mature until they're five years old. Also, a hawk's vision is 16 times that of a person and its hearing is eight times greater. Pictured below with Jim is a red tail hawk which was one year old. □

If "The Force" Was With Anyone — It's Her

It all started on the second day of the showing of Star Wars at Cine Capri when Stephanie received a "May The Force Be With You" button. She also had the book.

Her collection included the paperback version of Star Wars, two different posters, two different T-Shirts, one of which was a '20th Century Fox' brand from KRIZ radio; the original sound-track album, disco versions and a satire of Star Wars by Dicky Goodman (who made Mr. Jaws).

She also had the three original Star Wars comic books by Marvel estimated at $3.00 apiece, clippings from newspapers, 16 separate magazines pertaining to Star Wars and the 1978 Star Wars calendar.

If asked, Stephanie can detail characters and lingo from the movie.

What was her favorite character and part of the movie? Artoo-Detoo and Chewy; she also liked the special effects. In general, "It was terrific all around!" commented Stephanie. □

Crystal Cali:

She Skins Rattlesnakes

Killing rattlesnakes is not a normal hobby for a girl, but for Crystal Cali, it's a reality.

For three years, Crystal has hunted rattlesnakes in Cave Creek and has killed them usually with a shovel. Since there is a season for snakes, when it is warm, (not hot) with a temperature of about 85 degrees, that's when Crystal went snake hunting.

"One time I stepped on one, it was still alive," recalled Crystal. What did she do? "I moved quickly, then killed it." Another advantage of having snakes around she admitted was, "My mother is scared of snakes, she won't come near me."

Crystal learned how to skin snakes from a sixth grad teacher. After killing the snake (being careful because they can still snap for a half hour) she picks it up on a pole. Bringing it home, she slices it on the underside and salts the skin. Rinsing it off and putting it in glyseron follows. (Glyseron lubricates the skin so it become plyable.) The skin then sets for a couple of days on a paper towel or newspaper.

The whole process takes about six weeks for one skin. Crystal made hatbands, belts and headbands. She had also sold some of them.

When asked what she thought of snakes, Crystal replied, "I've like them all the time!" ■

He Macrames, But Never Gets Teased

GAYS doing macrame sound crazy, not for Bruce Duchac, who said he's never been teased.

In his spare time, he works up to five hours on a single sling. Although Bruce only does it for a hobby, he has sold slings for as much as $20. He receives a couple orders a month, usually from friends and neighbors. Bruce had flyers sent out but admitted he'd never tried selling to shops.

"I don't plan it, it's all done the way I feel," remarked Bruce when asked about macrame designs. "I learned all knots from books," said Bruce. He had no formal classes and was helped out only by a friend.

The largest sling he made was 8½ feet long with room for two pots. He only uses jute, natural color or pure white, and usually he works with real thick ply.

The most expensive sling he made was one which the supplies alone cost him $50, but he estimated he could have gotten $150 for it.

What does Bruce describe as qualities necessary for macrame? "I think you have to be very patient and meticulous about it-it can get complicated!" ■

She Has 1½ Foot Trophy For Her Accordion Playing

Under the encouragement from a friend in Minnesota, Lynda started playing the accordion six years ago

Although she practices about an hour and a half per day, she only attends lessons once a week. The accordion school is in Scottsdale but they travel to different states for contests. There are 25 students to each teacher.

For almost a week, the group visited Los Angeles and Colorado. The school raised the money through activities such as car washes.

Competition is based on age groups. It starts out with princess, then queen and king, pop, solo to duets.

With the size of the accordion (there are three different sizes) Lynda sits down while she plays.

Lynda feels it is mainly a hobby and as for her parents, well, "They don't listen," claims Lynda. □

He Sticks To Decals

Why would someone collect racing decals? "It was the thing going around in third grade," explained David.

Although his collection started in third grade, he sold half of it about two years ago. He received $25.

The collection includes racing, bumper and gum stickers; however, the racing decals are his favorite. At one time, David's collection included almost 200 stickers of which 70 were racing stickers. He keeps them taped and unpeeled in a book.

Stickers and decals may be obtained through a company. An average cost is 35 cents per sticker. Marine bumper stickers run about a dollar and usually 40-50 cents for other types of decals.

The resale price is higher than the original price depending on the decal's condition. David also said that silver backings on stickers are more valuable.

According to David, his oldest sticker was from the late 1950's or early 1960's which he bought from a kid.

As for his favorite, David said, "I love my Hooker Headers but sold them to a friend for 50 cents.

What does he plan to do with his sticker/decal collection? "I'll keep on collecting and see what happens in the future." □

Up To Eagle Scout

On the weekend before school started, Brad received his Eagle Scout Award

Ten out of 40 in his troop were Eagle Scouts. Brad also received the OA Brotherhood award in which he was voted for (by the other troop members) because of his camping skills.

He went to Camp Geranimo for two years where he learned about different things and had fun. Another camp he attended was Philmont, located in northern New Mexico.

Brad's Eagle Scout project was working at a church. There, he built bookracks, easels and painted room dividers.

Since the age of 11, Brad has been in scouting. What does he think of it now? "It exposes kids to some of the things they can do in life." □

He's Been Run Over & Wiped

Out But Hasn't Broken Anything

Bee Line and Canyon raceways are a familiar sight to Carl who's been racing for about two years.

As any competitor would, he started in the beginning category, then moved to novice and from there to amateur. The next phase is expert (which Carl plans to have by the end of 1978) and from there to professional. Since there is no rule about jumping from class to class, Carl has received a 1st place trophy in the beginning class and two in novice.

Currently he possesses a Yamaha YZ 80-D and would like a YZ 125-D. Other equipment includes gloves, boots, leathers, a helmet and jerseys.

Motor cycle racing appears to be an expensive hobby. Carl has $800 in his bike alone and just to enter a race costs $10.50. However, his sponsors, the owners of Yamaha World give him a 20% discount on anything over $10. As Carl explained, "It's like a commercial."

Another disadvantage is injuries. "I've wiped out a lot, but haven't broken anything yet," admitted Carl. He also said he ran over a guy and likewise, he was run over too. "It doesn't feel too good," he commented.

"Sooner or later I'll be racing pro and everyone will know who I am," claimed Carl. □

She Spent Summer Constructing

School In Haiti

After digging 30 feet into a mountainside, Tina's group was able to build a school which was divided into four rooms. Its overall dimensions were 30 by 60 feet.

Tina flew to Florida where she spent two weeks at boot camp. As she remarked, "It's a mess-a swamp!" In the camp she learned to lay bricks and other construction facts.

Teen Missions sponsored over 1,000 kids per year and sent them out in groups of 30 all over the world. Haiti is an island, also shared with the Dominican Republic which is 5 miles southeast of Cuba in the Caribbean. Its a nondenominational program where kids do evangelistic and work projects.

What was it like in Haiti? To start with, there were rats and tarantulas. "We all got sick," Tina said was another problem. Although they had a concrete mixer, it had no gas; therefore, the group had to mix 80 tons of concrete by hand. Altogether, they layed 4,000 blocks and completed the building with a tin roof.

"The people thought it was weird because the girls wore pants instead of dresses," Tina recalled. She also said, "Its neat 'cause you can see the way the missionaries live." She plans to go again in the summer.

The cost was $790 plus spending money. ☐

Dana Korey: She Had A Chimpanzee That Used A Knife, Fork And Spoon

On December, Dana's chimpanzee which was three years old died of pneumonia.

Dana got it from a lady who lived with them. This lady's husband had brought it from Africa.

The chimpanzee, whos name was Redgie, a female, was about 3½ feet tall and weighed 85-90 pounds.

Redgie had a special cage but "undid the locks all the time," claimed Dana.

Besides eating with a knife, fork and spoon, the chimpanzee also used a glass. She ate ice cream and liked riding in a car.

She's Never Gone Home From The Fair Without A big Stuffed Animal

From 25¢ (one throw) to over $20 worth of throws was what it took to build up Theresa's collection of big-over three feet tall-stuffed animals won at the fair.

"I have the pink panther, coyote, Dino, a Saint bernard and another dog," claims Theresa. She said she won one of them and the other three were won for her. This collection has spanned a period of about three years.

Besides the big stuffed animals, Theresa has consolation snakes. "I've got lots of those," she remarked. She also possesses a little Dino to go with her big one. All in all, "I have a rainbow full of colors," said Theresa

"We never went home without a stuffed animal, we'd spend our last quarter."

Where does she keep them? "In my bedroom closet, Dino is in the living room in a corner and the big animals are arranged in a corner."

"I plan to get more next year," says Theresa and for her future plans she says, "I'll give them to my children." □

DIMENSIONS

In Retrospect

Illustrating a complete school year in pictures and words means capturing all phases of it—Student Life, Organizations, Sports, Academics and Classes in a dimensional view

After all, this year was not one-sided. It was not all academics, many students were involved in afterschool activities such as organizations or sport or both. Each student, whether they were aware of it or not, was affiliated with a class—Class of '78, '79, '80 or '81 and also took part in student life

This is where the theme of the '78 Sentinel, DIMENSIONS, CAME INTO BEING. Each phase of school life could be represented by a common scene which appeared on each division page, each with a varying element.

Although the dimensions of this school year have come to a close, the dimension of each student's life will continue to exist throughout their lifetime.

Changes are constantly involved in dimensions. This book has more special effects than any other yearbook in Saguaro's history.

Special type for headlines, special type for label heads and the initial letter, (in a dimensional type face) which started each copy section, were just a few of these effects.

ARO FIGHT SONG

ARO FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT.

WITH THE POWER OF YOUR MIGHT

ACK WE'RE THE SABERCATS.

WELD THERE GO OUR BACKS:

ORY WE'RE PROUD OF YOU.

HEERS WE'LL ALWAYS BE TRUE.

ARO FIGHT FIGHT, FIGHT.

Following each copy section was a pica square. Inside it, there were initials of the staffer(s) who prepared the page. The code to these pica squares is below.

No one can truly understand or appreciate the work of a dedicated yearbook staffer, except that dedicated staffer. If working through until 5 A.M. or perhaps putting in a couple of 24 hour days in the same week to finish the deadline sounds crazy, then I suppose we are crazy.

A lot of time and hard work went into producing this yearbook which I feel is truly exceptional. Some of the people indirectly involved either for their ideas or helpfulness, were AIPA workshop and especially John Hoge (Catalina High School) my instructor at workshop where a lot of ideas became reality for this book; and Mr. Chuck Bursell, our yearbook representative, for his effort in searching for the 3'D cover, the Scottsdale Daily Progress and AP Photo Service for use of the news pictures, Bob Wilcox Photography and especially Mrs. Ruth Ryan for her super job of helping us by taking, printing and touching up pictures.

On staff, Cece Shoen, Carol Sodano, Robbie Boverie, Theresa Shoen, Tammy Ryan and Paul Newman for their 'long hours' and strenuous tasks deserve credit. A special thanks goes to Paul Hunt for his hard work on the division page pictures.

Parents of staffers deserve credit for putting up with the mess and especially my family, along with the mess, for helping out by looking over pages and adding encouragement.

My gratitude extends to Miss Shari Forbes, our adviser, who approved of the special effects and who let us use them. Of course, the Josten's/American Yearbook Company deserves a lot of credit for deciphering the special instructions.

And of course, you, the students who made the dimensions of the year that we were able to capture in the 1978 versions of the Sentinel.
